Elizabeth Stolfus, PE, Elected President of Colorado Engineering Council

DENVER (May 3, 2016) – Elizabeth Stolfus, PE, president of Stolfus & Associates Inc., located in Greenwood Village, Colo., has been elected 2016-17 president of the American Council of Engineering Companies (ACEC) of Colorado Board of Directors.

Stolfus is a veteran transportation engineer who founded Stolfus & Associates Inc. in 2003. The Colorado transportation engineering and planning consulting firm offers a wide range of traffic and transportation engineering-related services, including access management, traffic impact analyses, traffic incident management, traffic operations evaluations, traffic signal design, roadway and intersection design, construction phasing and traffic control, signing and striping, public outreach, construction observation, and project management.

Stolfus has been a member of ACEC Colorado since 1997 and served on its transportation and education committees and as chairperson of its legislative committee from 2009-11. As a board member, she served as a metro director from 2011-13, secretary/treasurer in 2014, and vice president in 2015. She is also involved with the Women's Transportation Seminar, an international organization dedicated to building the future of transportation through the global advancement of women, and the Institute of Transportation Engineers.

Stolfus is a certified Small Business Enterprise, Women Business Enterprise and Disadvantaged Business Enterprise with the City and County of Denver, the Colorado Department of Transportation and the Regional Transportation District. She is an alumna of Vanderbilt University (Nashville, Tenn.), where she earned a Bachelor of Engineering in civil engineering.

"We are pleased that Elizabeth will serve as president of our board," said Marilen Reimer, executive director of ACEC Colorado. "Her leadership and commitment will continue to advance awareness of the engineering profession and the ongoing skills and services engineering professionals provide to safeguard the health, safety and public welfare."

Officers serving with Stolfus during her 2016-17 term are Nancy Clanton, PE, of Clanton & Associates Inc., vice president; and Craig Watts, PE, of MKK Consulting Engineers, secretary/treasurer. Immediate Past President Marvinetta Hartwig, PE, of Stanley Consultants Inc., will continue board service, as well the following directors who are continuing their terms: Brad Doyle, PE, Parsons Transportation Group Inc.; Jennifer Ashworth, PE, White Sands Water Engineers Inc.; Karlene Thomas, PE, Pinyon Environmental Inc.; and Wyatt Popp, PE, Olsson Associates Inc. Additionally, directors newly elected to ACEC Colorado's board are: North Director Forbes Guthrie of Stewart Environmental Consultants; Metro Director William Green, PE, of The RMH Group Inc.; Metro Director Dave DiFulvio, PLS, of Farnsworth Group; and National Director R. Gregory Roush, PE, of Leonard Rice Engineers Inc., who also will serve on the national ACEC Board of Directors.
