

ENGINEERS IN THE NEWS

---

Jackie Rudko has been promoted to principal at Cator, Ruma & Associates.

David Evans and Associates welcomes back Jennifer Wood, who recently returned as a senior project manager based in the Denver office. She will manage multifaceted transportation projects involving traditional and alternative delivery methods, complex engineering solutions, and multi-stakeholder participation. Steve Gomez has also joined the firm as a senior transportation engineer in the Denver office.

Congratulations KL&A, Denver Business Journal's Small Business Award finalist.

William Gladback joined Manhard Consulting Ltd. to serve as Western Region managing director. He will be based at in the firm's Denver office.

Martin/Martin has named Ray Tuttle, PE, a veteran principal and civil engineer with the firm, as the new leader of the 86-member civil department. The firm also proudly recognizes its recently promoted employees, all of which continue to exemplify the company's foundational cornerstones of integrity, service, creativity, and quality. Principals: Brian Tinkey, PE; Sean Molloy, PE; and Pontus Ugander, PE. Associates: Jane Aschermann, PE, LEED AP; Eric Barney, PE; Rob Frankenberger, PE, LEED BD+C; Amanda Miller, PE; and Eric Sobel, PE, SE, LEED AP. Senior Project Engineers: Jonathan Oltman, PE, LEED AP; and Mason Talkington, PE. Senior Building Envelope Specialist: Michael Schulz, AIA. Project Engineers: Fumi Hirose, PE; Hunter Brown, PE; and Jim Foreman, PE. Professional Engineers: Todd Whelan, PE; Scott Wert, PE; Grant Doherty, PE; and Shannon Doherty, PE. EIT IIs: McKenzie Danforth, Kevin Garrett, and Mark Solorio. EIT I: Matt Dugan. Designer: Steve Hudgens. Investigative Tech III: Jonathan Williams. Tech II: Hector Tario.

Shaffer Baucom Engineering & Consulting is pleased to announce the addition of Craig Nelson as mechanical engineer. He is experienced with mechanical consulting engineering for industrial projects in the oil-and-gas, power, and renewable-energy sectors. Most of this experience includes equipment design and selection, vendor bid evaluations, piping design and specification, change management, project scope development, and project management support. The company is also pleased to announce the addition of Pamela Pursley as director of marketing and business development. She will be representing the company at industry events, developing strategic-marketing programs, organizing brand-marketing communications, and creating/coordinating marketing collateral that is in line with the overall corporate goals.

Congratulations to Stantec's Daniel Aizenman, finalist in the BizWest 40 Under Forty Class of 2017.

David Corman is the new senior project manager at Structural Consultants.

Tsiouvaras Simmons Holderness is pleased to announce the promotion of two senior associates: Ryan Abraham, PE and Josh Barrett, PE. The company has added four new associates: Randy Furst, PE; Alan Ross, PE; Jeb Sloan, PE; and Ray Strandberg, PE, and has opened offices in Loveland and Colorado Springs.

TZA Water Engineers continues to grow. The following additions to the team will help the company meet the growing demand for water resources in 2017. Andrea Taillacq, PE, rejoins the firm as a water resources project manager. Justin Korkus, PE, joins as a senior project manager, and Craig Matsuda, PE, comes aboard as a project manager. Alise Beikmann, EIT, has been hired as a project engineer, and Daniel Pond has been added as the new project designer. Craig Matsuda, PE, joins the company as project manager for the drinking water and wastewater group.

Vali Cooper & Associates, a construction management firm, welcomes Jamie Reichler, PE, to its Colorado operations. Reichler brings 25 years of hands-on experience in design, construction, and construction management of earthen, concrete, and roller-compacted concrete dams, having worked directly with designers, contractors, and owners throughout the country. He is a licensed engineer in the states of Colorado, Utah, and Nevada.

WSP | Parsons Brinckerhoff, a global engineering and professional services firm, is now WSP worldwide effective May 10. In the United States, the firm will operate as WSP USA. Parsons Brinckerhoff, a leading transportation engineering and management organization founded in 1885 in New York City, was acquired in 2014 by WSP, a global professional services consultancy. For the past two and a half years, the firm has operated as WSP | Parsons Brinckerhoff in the U.S.

Roark Lanning, PE, was named director of wind energy in the Denver office, and Chris Campbell has been appointed construction services manager for the transportation and infrastructure practice in the Texas/Mountain region of WSP USA. Michael D. Swearingen was named the new water area manager for the Colorado offices of WPS USA.